

Nee Soon South Townhall
18 Nov 2018

'How do we help to protect the environment?' was the theme of the Nee Soon South Townhall held on 18 November 2018 at Nee Soon South CC Auditorium. Some 90 participants gathered for an hour of fruitful discussion, brainstorming on how to protect the environment.

4 groups of participants presented ideas which covered ways to recycle better, carbon footprints, the efficient use of electricity and increasing the awareness of the public on environmental issues

A short talk from the National Environment Agency on climate change and resource conservation in Singapore stirred up some interesting questions from the participants. Some students and teachers from Naval Base Primary School also attended the discussion, contributing suggestions on how recycling could be enhanced.

Er. Dr. Lee Bee Wah, Adviser to Nee Soon GRC GRO's urging participants to contribute their ideas on how to protect the environment

An intense group discussion

Students and Teachers from Naval Base Primary School

Dialogue session with Dr Lee